The Great North Atlantic Highway

For centuries the North Atlantic has been a highway between Europe and North America. The size and safety of the ships has changed over the years not to mention the length of the journey. With the advent of large aircraft and the need-for-speed passenger liner numbers declined.

Now there is a resurgence in demand for this nostalgic Transatlantic journey.

Shaun McCarthy of White Star cruises will entertain us with the history of this route and some of the quirky craft that made the journey.

Shaun McCarthy

Shaun McCarthy is the second generation in his family to run the highly successful White Star Cruises in Johannesburg which represents iconic shipping lines like Cunard, P&O Cruises, Celestyal Cruises, the super luxury Seabourn Cruises, River Cruises by Viking Cruises and Hurtigruten Adventure Cruises.
